

Tuesday 30th June- Science- The Water Cycle

Think about what you have learnt already about the water cycle. Create a comic strip imagining you are a drop of water.

A large rectangular frame divided into seven panels for a comic strip. The panels are arranged as follows: a single wide panel at the top; a row of two panels below it; a row of two panels below that; a row of three panels below that; and a single wide panel at the bottom. The panels are empty, intended for drawing and writing.
