Monday 13th July- Picture News

A red, white and blue paint job on the Prime Minister's plane has recently been revealed. The RAF Voyager is used by the Prime Minister and members of the Royal Family for official visits around the world and was previously coloured grey. An official spokesperson for the government confirmed that the plane received its makeover in Cambridgeshire in the colours of the Union Jack at the cost of £900,000, taken from public funds.

Things to talk about at home…

- What do you think when you first see the RAF Voyager plane from the poster?
- Do you think it matters what the plane looks like if the Prime Minster or the Royal Family are using it? How about if it was being used to take people on holiday?
- Do you think that the government should pay for the paintwork? Why?
