Watch this video and then discuss it with someone at home.

Look at the pictures of Rama and Ravana. Think carefully about the choices that these characters had to make.

In the middle of the silhouette write a possible bad thing that the character did in the story. On the outside of the silhouette write the deed that the character actually did.

When you have done that on the next page write a list of 5 of your own temptations and how you overcome them.

It could be something like resisting eating too much chocolate or sweets, or watching less television etc. It is up to you.
